I might add that the purpose of 9/11 was to write off debt. When we can no longer export our debt, we kill off people and destroy private property. And in so doing, we destroy some of our debt without having to export it to a foreign power. Hence, the next time something like 9/11 happens, it'll be worse than 9/11 because it'll be a larger body of debt that someone has decided to eliminate.

At our expense!
